Perfect Touch: A Novel By Elizabeth Lowell

The New York Times bestselling queen of romantic suspense returns with a heart-racing tale in which a former soldier turned rancher and a beautiful designer race to stop a vicious killer—a battle for survival that threatens to explode in an intense and irresistible passion.

An art dealer and owner of her own design studio, Perfect Touch, Sara Medina travels the world to find the ideal artwork for her clients. Her sophisticated, comfortable life in San Francisco is light years away from the poverty of her family's dairy farm, and Sara will do whatever it takes to keep her business strong. A dedicated urban career woman focused on her work, she doesn't have time or energy for a family or distracting romantic entanglements.

Jay Vermillion recently inherited Vermillion Sky, a working ranch near Wyoming's breathtaking Grand Teton Mountains—and the estates of the rich and restless. While he was fighting in two wars, his father tried to keep the homestead running, until illness stole his sight and then his life. Jay's determined to restore Vermillion Sky, but first he's got to settle a vicious battle with his former stepmother over some of his late father's paintings. The last thing on his mind is a finding a wife and creating a seventh generation of Vermillions.

When Jay hires Sara to handle his father's artwork, it's love at first sight—a mutually inconvenient attraction that is soon complicated by a double murder at the edge of the ranch and a potential betrayal even closer to home. Working together to unmask a murderer, Sara and Jay try to fight the intense heat between them. Then the killer targets Sara. And suddenly, Jay, the war-weary soldier, finds something he's once again willing to die for . . .

Editorial Review

From the Back Cover

Sara Medina travels the world to find artwork for her clients, a sophisticated life that is light-years away from her family's dairy farm. Sara has worked too hard getting out of the country to want to go back again for more than a visit—even for someone as enticing as her new client, Jay Vermilion.

Jay recently inherited his family's ranch near the Grand Tetons. While he was in the army, his father kept the homestead running, until illness stole his life. Jay's determined to restore the ranch, but first he's got to settle a vicious battle with his stepmother and half-brother over a collection of paintings by Armstrong "Custer" Harris.

When Jay and Sara finally meet, it's love at first sight—a mutually inconvenient attraction that's soon complicated by a double murder. Working together to unmask a killer, Sara and Jay are powerless to resist each other, even though they both know it can never last.

Then the killer targets Sara. And suddenly Jay finds something he's once again willing to die for . . .
